INSTITUTIONAL DISTINCTIVENESS

The institution's accent on preparedness for NEP 2020 and to groom students keeping in mind IR 4.0 involves integrating technology with traditional teaching models and enhancing their understanding of our rich cultural heritage. The next level evolution in education is about utilization of new age technology to assist and supplement traditional teaching and learning methods. This also addresses the needs of future as it evolves and unfolds before us. Industry 4.0 will per force require work force with essential collaborative, digital and organizational skills who can operate effectively in the unified workspace, which is physical as well as digital. In keeping with these requirements, the Learning Outcomes Based Curriculum Framework connects the idea of desired outcomes with an emphasis on interactive, skill-based learning. Studies have shown that students taught in such skill oriented, interactive, guided paradigms develop better innovative ideation, critical thinking and application ability along with a sound academic foundation. To this very end, therefore, the institution has dedicated resources and assets as well as endeavours and programmes. Systematic upgradation to Wi-Fi enabled campus, offers easy access to study material and vetted notes to students.

As a measure of preparedness for the future, the college has promoted several endeavours that promote hard and soft skill empowerment.
